Mrs. Ellyson's Report. Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, vice-regent of the Virginia Room, Confederate Museum, submitted the followins quarterly report at the meeting of the Confederate Memo-rial Literary Society, March 29th, in which she says:

"As I write my report, serrow like a pall howers over me. Our beloved Mildred Lee lies sleeping her last sleep in New Orleans. She was endowed with a bright, intelligent mind, a Christian simplicity and a womanly dignity, rarely

"As the regent of the Virginia Room !" the Museum, she was deeply interested and donated many of the priceless incmentoes of her distinguished father, Genmentoes of her distinguished lattier, Gen-eral Robert E. Lee as gifts to the Mu-seum. One of the conspleuous traits of her sensitive nature was her objection to lending her name for the purpose of enlisting funds or gifts for the Confederate work, as she feared that a reques erate work, as she feared that a request from the daughter of General Lee might be construed as a demand.

"I treasure her visits to me and feel honored to have been permitted to work with her for our Loved Cause. My warmest sympathies are offered to her sorely bereaved family. The Virginia Room, through me, reverently lays a wreath upon her bler.

First Gift

First Gift.

"The first gift I record in this report is that of an iron bedstead used by General R. E. Lee in his headquarters at Edge Hill, the residence of Mr. Wil ham Turnbull, near Petersburg. The bed was given to Mr. Turnbull at the evacuation and presented through Mrs. W. J. Leake and Mrs. Parke C, Bagby.

welude a toy slipper, one out of a num-ber sold at a bazaar held in London, Ensland, during 1982 or 1884, for the bene-fit of the Confederate cause. The slipper was presented through Mrs. Joseph Bryan. Mr. G. O. Owens was the donor of a string of Confederate buttons. An interesting gift is a talling collar, one of many solid by a southern woman who many sold by a southern woman, who mysteriously appeared in Baltimore and as mysteriously disappeared, after real-izing a goodly sum for a hospital in Va., has sent a piece of drapery from the bier of General Lee; an autograph photo-graph of President Davis and a photo-graph of Margaret Howell Davis, taken when she was eleven years old.

Interesting Ceremony.
t gives me pleasure to report a very resting ceremony that took place in Virginia Room at the Museum on the Virginia Room at the Museum on Saturday, February 25th, the occasion being the presentation, through Mr. William H. Stuart, of Portsmouth, Va., of the swords nad's ash, of Captain Thomas Lawson Barrand, killed at Bristoe Station, Va., October 14th, 1863. Mr. Stuart's presentation address was made at the request of R. H. Baker and his sister, Mrs. Mary Barraud, and was an eloquen testimonial to the bravery and heroisa of a noble Confederate soldier.

Letter From Mr. Penick.

"I send with this report a letter from Mr. Paul M. Penick, the lawyer of the Mr. Paul M. Penick, the lawyer of the late Mrs. J. K. Edmendson, that relieves the Confederate Memorial Literary Society from all responsibility as to the certificate issued for the flag of the Eighteenth Massachusetts Regiment. The flag can now be sent to the proper State officials. It was my intention to advise the return of this flag at the present meeting. The called meeting was for the purpose of arranging for its return by March 17th, when it was desired fox a military celebration in Massachusetts.

"The proper papers could not be obtained by that time. The flaffs now awaits the decision of the Society as to its return. As its being sent back is an acknowledgement of our appreciation of an act of Congress authorizing the return of the Confederate battle flags—an act furthered by our able representative, Hon John Lamb. I hope it will be the pleagure of the society to forward the flag to the Governor of the Massachuse. late Mrs. J. K. Edmendson, that relieves

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Eliot Norton.

LIFE AND SONG.

By SIDNEY LANIER.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical etch, have already been printed in this series.

This is from a series of poems called "Street Cries."

And a wild heart, throbbing in the reed, Should thrill its joy and trill its fret, And utter its heart in every deed,

Then would this breathing clarionet Type what the poet fain would be; For none o' the singers ever yet Has wholly lived his minstrelsy,

Or clearly sung his true, true thought, Or utterly bodied forth his life, Or out of life and song has wrought The perfect one of man and wife;

Or lived and sung that Life and Song Might each express the other's all, Careless if life or art were long, Since both were one, to stand or fall:

So that the wonder struck the crowd, Who shouted it about the land; His song was only living aloud, His work, a singing with his hand!

Annual Steeplechases.

The event, however, in sporting circles around Warrenton is the annual point-topoint steeplechases. The fixture this season is for Monday, April 10th, and speculation is rife as to what horses will be entered and which will be the possible winners. In the first race, for light weight hunters that have followed the Warrenton hounds this season, there will be several that have won ldurels in previous contests. Mr. John Gaines will probably have his two mares in that ran first and second in the same race last year, "Lone Jack," the winner several seasons back, will also have to be reckoned with. Will Afford Fine Sport.

The second event will doubtless afford fine sport, for it is open to all horses belonging to a recognized hunt, for which an excellent purse is offered.

The third and most interesting race is the farmers', to which all horses are eligible belonging to men over whose land the club has hunted. This is an opportunity for the farmer to show his horse and to sell him, and many of the horses that have gone from Fauquier and made reputations elsewhere have been sold right out of the farmers' race, so to speak. reputations elsewhere have been sold right out of the farmers' race, so to speak.
